FREDRICKS WILL MEET STECKER

Bob Fredricks, formerly of this city, who is known to the sporting world as "Strangler" Lewis, and Joe Stecher are matched to meet in a wrestling match at Madison Square Garden, New York, Friday night. A feature of the bout will be the fact that both men specialize in one hold. Lewis is famed for his deadly "headlock," with which he defeated Zbyszko and many other prominent men. Stecher is the inventor of the "body scissors," often called the deadliest hold in the game. With his powerful legs wrapped about the stomach of his opponent, Stecher puts on pressure until it is impossible for his opponent to stand the pain. In his recent bouts the men who opposed him have used an effective defense against the body scissors. They draw the knees up over the stomach, thereby offsetting Stecher's one hold. Lewis seems to have the better of it. To date none of the wrestling stars have discovered a defense to offset the headlock.

MOURNS BECAUSE HE HAS NO SONS

J. T. Nemachek of Eagle River has six daughters. Ten years ago he lost three sons with scarlet fever. Today he is grieving because he has no soldiers to offer for the defense of his country and he has written to the State Council of Defense asking if they can direct him as to how to proceed to adopt two French or Belgian boys to be brought up in his family as his own sons would have been.

CAN'T PURCHASE SNUFF IN CHINA

Joe Christ, a former resident of Rhinelander, is now in Tientsin, China, as a member of Co. G., 15th U. S. Infantry. Christ in a letter to Chief of Police Maurice Straub writes very favorably of soldier life in the far East. The troops are well quartered, well fed and there is enough to see and do to keep them from being lonesome. Christ informs the chief that the only thing he desires is snuff. It is impossible to get snuff in the part of China where he is located and he continually craves for this form of tobacco.

THREE LAKES IS IN SECOND PLACE

In the Liberty Bond subscription report in last week's New North Three Lakes was given credit for only $600. This was a typographical error as the report at that time showed $6,000 for Three Lakes. At the last report Three Lakes had soared to second place among the county towns with a reported sale of $9,700 of bonds. This is the result of a hard and thorough campaign by Captain Clark G. Kuney and his capable team members.

FIRST WAR BABY

A baby girl, weighing 10½ pounds was born the latter part of the week to Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Schiller. The new arrival is said to be the first war baby born in Rhinelander. The father is in France trying to get the Kaiser. Mrs. Schiller is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Armstrong of south side.

20 PATIENTS AT TOMAHAWK LAKE

With the coming of spring there has been a slight reduction in the number of tuberculosis patients cared for at county and state sanatoria. The records of the state board of control of March show 761 patients under public care, as compared with 740 this month. Of the 740 tuberculosis patients, 333 are men and 200 are women. Twenty men are cared for at Tomahawk Lake camp, 104 men and eighty-one women are cared for at Wisconsin State Tuberculosis sanatorium. The total insane population of the state is 8,200, which is no increase over the past month.

FLAMBEAU BOYS LEAVE RESERVE

Two boys from the Flambeau reservation, near Minocqua, were picked up by Merrill officers at a farm near that city Friday afternoon, states the Merrill Herald.

Word was received by the officials that five boys had escaped from the reservation and requested the local officials to be on the watch-out for them, it being expected that they would come to Merrill as one of the boys is a son of Jake Snow, who lives near Merrill.

The boys "came" Thursday evening and went to the farm at Newwood. When they were taken into custody and questioned as to what became of the other lads, they informed the sheriff and chief that they had stopped at Antigo and were employed there.

32 LOCAL BILLS AFTER KAISER

Rhinelanders Elks entertained at their club rooms last Thursday night in honor of three of their brothers, George Gleason, Charles Rounds and Francis Hildebrand, who are numbered among the Oneida county drafted men who leave soon for service.

An enjoyable program was carried out, including music by the Oneida orchestra. Lunch was served.

Lodge 598 will have thirty-two members in Uncle Sam's service when the three mentioned above have responded for duty.

WILSON FAVORS BILLY PERKINS

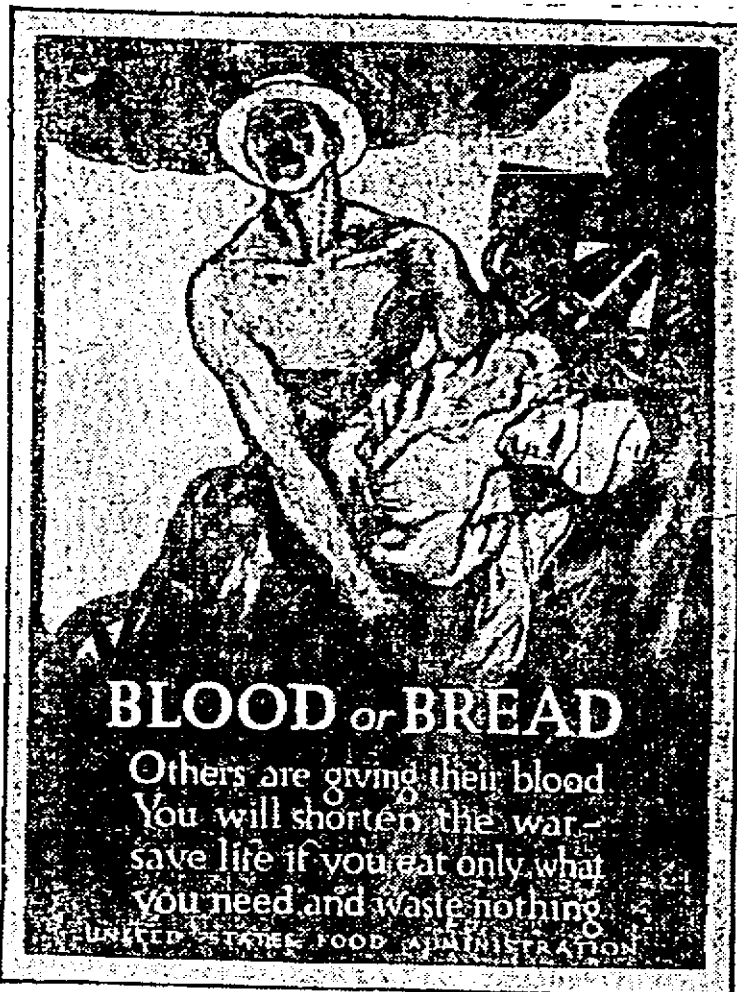

Washington, April 22—President Wilson today exercised the executive prerogative of clemency, and saved William Perkins of Rhinelander, Wis., from prison.

Perkins formerly kept a saloon, and was convicted of selling liquor to an Indian. He always claimed that he did not know the man was an Indian. Since the offense occurred he disposed of his saloon interests, got married, settled down on a farm and has been leading a respectable existence.

It was his first and only offense. The president threw off the jail sentence, but he will have to pay a fine of $100.

HURT IN FRANCE

A despatch from Ottawa Tuesday stated that C. F. Brodock of Woodruff, this county, was mentioned as wounded in France. Mr. Brodock is a member of the Canadian army and was wounded while in action.

EVERYONE MUST HELP.
Wars cannot be fought without money, and upon the Treasury centers every financial demand upon the Nation.
The rich of this country cannot alone meet the needs of the Nation; the men of the country cannot do it alone; the women of the country cannot do it alone; but all of us, the people of the United States, disregarding partisanship, forgetting selfish interests, thinking only of the supremacy of right and determining to vindicate the majesty of American ideals and secure the safety of America and civilization, can do the great and splendid work which God has called upon us to do.
W. G. McADOO,
Secretary of the Treasury.

BUILDING NEW SHOP

Albert Briggs is building a new bicycle repair shop near his home on N. Brown street. Mr. Briggs does a big business in motorcycle and bicycle repairing and is considered an expert in his line.

60 TO JOIN R. N. A.

A class of sixty candidates is soon to be ushered into the mysteries of the R. N. A. lodge in this city. With the addition of these new members the Rhinelander lodge will rank among the very largest in Wisconsin.

SOO SECTION MEN PURCHASE BONDS

P. H. Flatley, division roadmaster on the Soo line, has solicited $4400 in Third Liberty Loan subscriptions from the section men on his division. The bonds were practically all of fifty dollar denomination. This speaks well for the loyalty of these railroad employees "who do the hardest work and get the smallest pay."

Mr. Flatley's father was a soldier in the civil war and he comes from fighting stock.

CLEAN-UP DAY WEDNESDAY, MAY 1

Clean-Up Day in Rhinelander was postponed from Wednesday, April 24 to Wednesday, May 1.

Remember, next Wednesday is Clean-Up Day. Remove all the winter's accumulation of dirt and put your premises in a clean and tidy condition. Take pride in the appearance of your city. Do your bit to make Rhinelander a "Spotless Town."

REGISTERS WILL TALK OVER FEES

Charles E. Davis, Oneida county register of deeds, will attend a conference of register of deeds of the state in Milwaukee June 4 and 5 with reference to the recording of deeds, mortgages and contracts in their different offices. The Milwaukee conference is the result of a similar meeting held at Oshkosh last week. The plan of the registers of deeds will be to ask the next session of the legislature to pass a law for the uniform filing of these documents. Frank H. Smith, Register of Deeds of Brown county and Register Hollands of Oshkosh are the originators of the new plan. Not only do they hope to get uniform system of recording documents, but they also hope to provide for a uniform price or fee for the recording of such instruments. Gov. Philipp has been asked to address the conference.

LODGE BUYS BONDS AND WAR STAMPS

The Scandinavian Fraternity lodge of this city has purchased war savings stamps to the amount of $165 and $100 worth of Third Liberty Loan Bonds. This is the right kind of patriotism.

The Scandinavian Fraternity is a consolidation of the S. H. & E. F. of A. and the Scandinavian Brotherhood. The order has over 25,000 members in all parts of the United States and is growing rapidly.

FLORA DE VOSS COMING IN MAY

J. B. Holnour writes from Iowa that his Flora De Voss company will appear at the Majestic theater in this city for a two nights engagement in May.

The Flora De Voss company is an old time favorite among Rhinelander theater goers. The troupe this year includes several new people, as well as the old players, and the repertoire contains some new productions of a high class never before staged in Rhinelander.

DR. SCHIEK HAS SOFT MATTRESS

"After I have been jumped from pillar to post, over land and sea, riding in about every known vehicle designed by man, we are at last billeted in a small French town," writes First Lieutenant I. E. Schiek of this city in a letter to friends. "Our trip across was uneventful excepting the monotony of seeing water, water, water, everywhere day after day. We were splendidly taken care of on board. You see the funniest kinds of wagons and vehicles, some horse-drawn and many still by oxen. Their wagons are mostly two-wheeled, like a boy's pony wagon. The tools and farm implements are of the old styles. In fact, everything here seems to impress you that they are doing things in the hardest way possible. They work hard, but don't seem to get anywhere. The streets are narrow and poorly drained; they are paved with cobble stones; most everybody I've seen since landing wears wooden shoes, and when the kids come running down the streets, as kids do, I still feel like cavalry were coming—they make such a racket."

"There are no young men in France. Every woman seems to be in mourning. They are very good to us, and think very highly of all Americans. They do many things for our comfort that we appreciate. We are scattered all over the place, a few soldiers here, a few there, etc. Some have haystacks, some houses, empty stores, etc. I room with an old lady of 65. I have her best room; I bet it hasn't been opened in a hundred years. When I first went in it, it was dark and musty as an old book, but airing it out has improved it wonderfully. The mattresses—say the mattresses are about four feet high—the biggest things I ever saw. It's like jumping in a haynow. Everything is spotless and as white as snow."

"FIGHTING PARSON" BATTLING "T. B."

Rev. Fred Wedge, widely known as "The Fighting Parson," has entered the toughest fight in his career. His opponent is the "T. B." and grim death may step in at any time and decide the bout against him. The "Kid" is battling for the highest of all stakes—his life.

In a letter to the New North Rev. Wedge, who is with the army Y. M. C. A. in Camp Grant, states that he is going to El Paso for his health. For several months he has had severe pain in his left lung and an X Ray examination revealed the fact that he is afflicted with tuberculosis. The army physicians advised him to hasten to Texas as the only chance of saving his life.

Rev. Wedge writes that he is not going to give up life without a hard struggle and in his own mind feels that he can master the dread disease.

During his service in Camp Grant "The Fighting Parson" has been acting as Y. M. C. A. athletic instructor and has won popularity among officers and men alike. His amateur boxing shows have been a feature of camp life.

DIDIER FOR THE DOGS

John Didier, of the Rhinelander Iron company, is strongly opposed to the new city dog ordinance. Mr. Didier says: "Some people who declare dogs have no rights forget the big part which the dog is taking in the present war. The dogs in France are helping in the thick of the fight—something that the human curs in this country are afraid to do."

"Actions speak louder than

"BUY OR EAT A BUSHEL."

(By E. L. Luther, Superintendent of Farmers' Institutes)

You will recall that in 1914 the country was asked to "Buy a Bale" of cotton. The cotton farmer was hard hit and the people came to his assistance and helped him over a hard place.

The potato farmer is hard hit and it is not his fault. He responded to the call to produce more potatoes and weather conditions and ear shortage prevented marketing them. So there are now in the farmers' bins in Wisconsin between 12,000,000 and 15,000,000 bushels of good potatoes which should be taken off the farmers' hands and which should be eaten now to have less perishable food. Within three months this great supply of food will have gone to waste. The only remedy is to save this great loss to the farmers is to eat more potatoes.

First, are potato farmers eating as many as they might? Are they eating bread and expecting other people to consume their crop? Potato farmers should adopt every form possible of presenting potatoes on their own tables and should save wheat right now and turn it over to the government to send to our allies. This will save a lot of the crop.

Second, the town, in the potato belt of Wisconsin, depending in large measure upon potato farmers for their prosperity should "cut out" the wheat and bread and consume more potatoes. The business men of hamlets, towns and cities should see to it that every meal has as a part of it potatoes in some form, and all employees to follow suit. Let us allow no meal to go by without eating some potatoes.

People in the potato belt should let no visitor to this section, whether at private table, hotel or restaurant, get away without eating potatoes in every form in which they may be presented most tastily.

Large posters should be put up in all Wisconsin hotel and restaurant dining rooms calling attention to the potato situation and asking the diners to loan a helping hand, a keen patriotic appetite. The Wisconsin potato section should take pride in this great industry and should sell a large part of the crop in the next three months to those who visit that region commercially or otherwise.

Commercial men who make the towns of the potato section depend in considerable measure upon selling their wares to potato farmers. Unless potato farmers can sell their crop it will be thought they cannot purchase goods. So purely from a business standpoint the Knights of the Grip should help market this great crop.

At all hotels and restaurants in Wisconsin patrons ought to be supplied with a printed statement by each plate setting forth the need of eating potatoes and not eating wheat and bread, and asking the diner to order but one-half slice of bread and at least two or three fair sized potatoes; and in the hotels and restaurants of the potato belt of Wisconsin the bread ration should be served individually and reduced to a half slice of an ordinary loaf.

The other day at a hotel at the hub of potatoes in Wisconsin, the writer was served with two potatoes and so much other good food that he could eat but one of the potatoes. The hotel was a good hotel, away above the average. But it so happened that the potatoes were somewhat watery and not up to the standard of the rest of the meal. This suggests that potatoes should be well prepared and rendered most palatable and that the bread ration should be greatly reduced.

Will the potato section help itself before it calls upon the rest of the world to do what it is not doing? Will Wisconsin help the potato section of Wisconsin before it expects people of other states to come to the rescue? Will the people of other states help the Wisconsin potato grower now to "buy or eat" another bushel as the people of Wisconsin helped "buy another bale" of cotton back in the days of 1914?

Will the people of the United States consume the great crop of potatoes and not let it go to waste and save bread-stuffs to send to our allies and thus win the great war? As we now deport ourselves well in this matter, so shall we come into greater satisfaction with ourselves in the not distant days to come.

Sunshine Cure

Two years ago in this column we advocated, as a health promoting agency, the daylight saving provision which has now been put into effect. This fact is mentioned, not for its purpose of attracting credit for forehandness, but to emphasize again an important possibility of gain which is still being ignored by practically all writers.

The saving in electric light is obvious and impressive. The possibility of gaining a great increase in health is not so obvious, and there is a chance of its being missed altogether. We have great need of storing up a good supply of health, of red blood and resistance this summer. They will be needed during the coming winter quite as much as a cellar full of vegetables and a bin full of grain.

At present, about one-seventh of the Wisconsin physicians are in uniform. Nurses have left and are leaving daily. Whereas the soldiers represent people who, ordinarily do not require a physician, those remaining at home represent the aged and the sickly, who naturally need frequent medical attention. Those physicians available for civil needs will be so busy and so much overworked that it should be part of our thrift to avoid preventable illness.

As a nation, we have enjoyed too little physical play. Utter absence of bodily exercise has been one cause of ills such as nervousness, insomnia, or constipation, which beset most of us. With an extra hour of sunlight at our disposal, we should be impelled to spend that much time out-of-doors in baseball, swimming, war gardening, or at least, in "breathing the free air."

Now that the maintenance of physical vigor has become a patriotic duty in the interest of national conservation and nations—efficiency, let us regard this extra hour of sunlight as one which is pledged to health.

If you wish to know something of how the daylight saving plan came to be, and what it may mean to you, drop a card to the Health Instruction Bureau, University Extension Division, 471 Van Buren St., Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

FOODS TASTE BETTER COOKED —TOBACCO TASTES BETTER TOASTED

Since the day of the caveman, who liked his meat raw, civilization has learned a lot about the scientific treatment of the things we eat.

Naturally none of us would now prefer to have our meat raw, our potatoes as they come from the ground, our coffee unroasted.

And naturally follows the great discovery recently made by The American Tobacco Co.—that tobacco tastes better TOASTED!

This wonderful new idea—simple like all great inventions—was first used in producing the famous LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes—made of toasted Burley tobacco.

Burley has a mellow flavor, entirely different from the tobacco usually used for cigarettes. It is a pipe tobacco and LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes taste like a pipe.

NATURE CURES, THE DOCTOR TAKES THE FEE

There is an old saying that "Nature cures, the doctor takes the fee," but as everyone knows you can help Nature very much and thereby enable it to effect a cure in much less time than is usually required. This is particularly true of colds. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy relieves the lungs, liquefies the tough mucus and aids in its expectoration, allays the cough and aids Nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. All Dealers.

MURRAH FOR PADDY!

Stange's Camp 28 has established a new record. The members of the crew purchased $600 worth of bonds of the Third Liberty Loan. Besides this we are informed that they have purchased war saving stamps to the amount of $1700. Paddy Dolan, foreman of Camp 28, is loud in his praises of the loyalty of his men. He thinks they have set a pace which other camps will find hard to follow. Three cheers for Paddy and his crew!—Minocqua Times.

SOLDIER TELLS OF TUSCANIA HORROR

Friend Of Dr. Garner On Ill Fated Boat Writes From Scotland

Dr. H. L. Garner has received a belated letter from a soldier who was on board the ill fated Tuscania. This young man, whose home is in a western city, was in a Glasgow hospital when he wrote the letter, which follows:

"Glasgow, Scotland, Feb. 22, 1918. "This is a holiday in good old U. S. A. and I must celebrate by writing a few letters. I am sitting up in bed with the aid of a few pillows, as I am still suffering from the effects of an experience, which I shall soon relate, with a nice little case of the mumps as a side issue.

"Well, I was aboard the Tuscania when she was torpedoed off the coasts of Ireland and Scotland in the North channel. I have wondered whether American papers published details or if they suppressed the facts. At any rate they probably gave the names of those lost and you must have noted that mine was not among them.

"We had sighted land early in the afternoon of February 5 and most everyone was on deck enjoying boxing contests among those who had not been seasick. We were all pretty weak and tired, but in the best of spirits, thinking we would soon be at our journey's end. I was sitting in the headquarters office with my life belt at my side talking to one of the men while we were waiting for mess at 6.

"At 5:15 an awful explosion which sounded like a nearby clap of thunder shook the great liner from bow to stern like she was a toy. Almost instantly the lights went out, which told us the ship was struck in the engine room and there was no chance to reach her. There was quite a scramble to get on deck, my self in the midst, but for the number on board, about 2,500, there was very good order. By the time I got outside the ship had begun to list heavily to starboard and it looked as if we would all be lost, but presently she began to right herself again, altho it was quite evident she was sinking.

"The men began lowering the life boats immediately and one or two were wrecked or capsized upon being launched which made the men to come later more careful. I worked at the lifeboats for nearly two hours and when we did pull away from the ship she was about ready to founder. Ours was the last lifeboat to leave and was overcrowded with about 60 men and two officers. After we pulled away a destroyer came alongside of the ship and took off those remaining. They were saved without any difficulty, but as for us to be set adrift in a heavy sea in the North channel, early in the night in an overcrowded boat, not knowing where we were going or when we might be rammed by a sub, it looked like less than a fighting chance.

"Most all of us were very sick from the rough water and nervous strain. Men who had not been sea sick before were now leaning over the boat and feeling the fishes between turns of rowing or dipping water. We started drifting about not far from the big ship about 8 o'clock. Not long after she began to founder in plain sight.

"Never shall I forget the rush of waters upon her upper decks with crack of rigging and masts all brilliantly illuminated by the lights from the auxiliary motor. We drifted about in our boat, tossed like a chip, in ice water up to our knees and bailing constantly to keep afloat. The spray and foam dashed over us constantly and it seemed we would freeze in the cold wind.

"Finally we could see the dim outline of an island against the sky, although on account of the darkness we could not tell how far we were from it. We steered our boat toward it. When we got within short distance from it we saw we were very near a rocky shoal with the breakers dashing high upon the rugged rocks—but in vain we tried to pull away. Each gigantic wave took us nearer our fate until with a terrible crash our boat broke in a thousand pieces against the rocks.

"Now it was each man for himself. "Just before we were dashed against the rocks our lieutenant shouted, 'Remember, men, we are all Americans,' and that gave us courage. "I then clung to the rock until I could empty some of the salt water out of my stomach and lungs and then managed to climb over the high water near a large rock which afforded partial shelter from the wind which seemed to be chilling me to death. Finally, groaning

CONSTIPATION AND INDIGESTION

These are twin evils. Persons suffering from indigestion are often troubled with constipation. Mrs. Robert Allison, Mattoon, Ill., writes that when she first moved to Mattoon she was a great sufferer from indigestion and constipation. Food distressed her and there was a feeling like a heavy weight pressing on her stomach and chest. She did not rest well at night, and felt worn out a good part of the time. One bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets corrected this trouble so that she has since felt like a different person.

Farmers, Attention!

The Government Is Begging You to Raise Wheat

Wheat is very scarce still, but in order that we may send more flour to our Allies most of the meatless days have been cut out, so we can eat meat instead of wheat. Some varieties of wheat do not do well in this climate, but a number of Oneida county farmers have successfully raised wheat year after year.

We plan to have our flour mill in operation before fall, so there will be a sure market here

This appeal is not merely to our stockholders, but to every patriotic land owner in Oneida county. We have arranged with MR. JUDAY to handle all orders for seed at the lowest price obtainable, and we hope to secure orders for a carload. Please place your orders at once.

Few Chinese Newspapers.

In all China there are about 440 newspapers, and of these only about fifty have good circulation. The average is not more than 3,000 copies an issue. One newspaper in Shanghai claims a daily circulation of 30,000.

Learning by Experience.

Experience keeps a dear school, but fools will learn in no other, and scarce in that; for it is true, we may give advice, but we cannot give conduct. However, they that will not be counseled cannot be helped, and if you will not hear reason, she will surely rap your knuckles.—Franklin.

Advantages of Egotism.

It is to be said in favor of self-appreciation that people may not take you at your estimate of yourself, but they will be sure to accept any underestimation that you may make.

WILL COMPILE WAR HISTORY

The state of Wisconsin is to compile a history of the war as far as it refers to Wisconsin men and in order to secure all necessary information a historian has been named in each county. In Oneida county this honor has been conferred upon Supt. W. P. Colburn of the city schools.

Mr. Colburn will select people in this city and throughout the county to assist him in the work.

An effort will be made to secure data regarding every Oneida county man in the service.

"For the cause that lacks assistance;
For the wrong that needs resistance;
For the future in the distance
And the good that we can do."

We can't help but notice that the majority of people who yell, "Kill the dogs!" are people who don't own dogs.

There are three kinds of thieves.
The man who steals $150 and goes to prison for eighteen months, the man who steals $5,000 and goes to prison for two years and the man who steals an amount known to be $16,600 but probably nearer $50,000, and goes free. While we hold no brief for Ex-City Clerk Robertson we see no reason why Ex-City Treasurer Suttin should be allowed to escape punishment for his little raid on the city funds.

TIME TO GET BUSY

With the election of Lenroot to the U. S. senate, the position of representative in the lower house becomes vacant. It is not likely that a special election will be held, hence the position will be filled at the general election next November.

The official count of the special election had not been announced when two candidates from the very northern part of the state rushed into the spotlight with their candidacies for representative in congress from this district.

We have no criticism against these gentlemen personally, but is it fair to have all the congressional representatives from that same section?

This county for instance, has had no representative in congress since the days of Myron H. McCord and has asked no favors. It seems time that we get busy now and try at least to divide up the representation. This portion of the state has stood squarely back of Lenroot and helped to put him over, and was glad to do it. Now let those fellows up there curb their aspirations, and give some other portion of the district a little merited consideration.
We believe there is a chance for Lincoln county to do something in that line, or at least make an attempt at securing a fair distribution of the political preferment of the district.

That, Oneida county voluntarily concedes Lincoln county's right to consideration is evident from the following taken from the last issue of the Rhinelander New North:

"Sheldon for Congress"
"We are informed that the friends of George M. Sheldon of Tomahawk, are trying to become a candidate for congressman to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Lenroot's election to the U. S. senate. Mr. Sheldon is a clear thinker, a clean citizen, a man of mature mind, and we feel would be a good successor to Mr.
Lenroot after a little experience in Washington."

"The Tomahawk attorney is a loyal man and was a strong supporter of Lenroot in the recent campaign."

"If Sheldon were in Washington representing this eleventh district, we need have no fear, for he would look after the interests of the country to the best of his ability."

As to Mr. Sheldon's desires or willingness to enter the contest we have no authority to speak, but we do know that if sent to Washington there would be no occasion to refer to him as an "official accident" or a "fadder shir" for he is simply capable of thinking for himself, and he likely has the courage of his convictions.

We believe the counties in this end of the district ought to get together and through united effort put up a concerted protest against the selection of a representative in congress from the extreme north—Marshall Advocate.

"Hurt" Easily Explained

many a sane the average physician calls "nervous" is really the movement of the individual on a larger orbit of perception, expression and, perhaps, realization.—Gertrude Capen Whitney.

who depart for Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill., Friday night, will be accorded a farewell demonstration urged to participate.

There will be a six o'clock dinner at the Oneida, which will be followed by an appropriate program.
At 10:30 citizens will gather at the court house to escort the contingent to the Northwestern depot.
The Rhinelander City Band will head the procession. Everybody who can possibly do so is expected to be in line.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

Observation more than books, experience rather than persons, are the prize educators.—A. Bronson Alcott.

WHAT SHALL WE HAVE FOR BREAKFAST?

To most housekeepers the first meal of the day presents the most perplexing problems. The going without breakfast has much to recommend it, it saves trouble, saves food, and often saves a few more minutes in bed, which few of us need. As the breakfast habit is fairly well established in most homes it behooves us to start the family
cheerily on its way well fed and happy. The average American breakfast is a simple one, which is sensible, as few people are hungry in the morning and a hearty breakfast is unwise. It is better far to partake of a meal that has not overtaxed the cook to prepare or the individual to digest. "No dinner however beautifully cooked and served, no fine railroad however costly and becoming,

can ever atone, in the memory of man, for the wild and untamed morning which so often prevails in the American household," says Olive Green.
The right kind of breakfast begins the day better than any good meals do.

Corn meal mush fried in a little fat is going to be very popular among our patriotic families. It is most nourishing, and will take the place of bread in a large measure. By adding chopped meat to the mush before molding it to cut in slices, it becomes still more valuable as food.

There is no reason that the morning meal should not be varied in its menu, as there are countless ways of serving the common things in uncommon ways. A hot bread will take the place of the toast, waffles and griddle cakes are digested by the active child as well as the older person, but are not wholesome for those who take little exercise. When one feels sluggish and stupid an hour or two after eating breakfast it is advisable to eliminate the offending food. There are those who insist upon meat and potatoes for breakfast, and if the family are active enough to digest such food well, there should be no reason to change the habit, although we all know that meat once a day is plenty for health, and we will be richer in purse as well as health to eat less of the more expensive protein foods.

HENRY FORD, PACIFIST, READY TO FIGHT FOR PEACE

Since Henry Ford threw off his mantle of pacifism to don the armor of force he has had a sharp eye out for any threatening foe of Uncle Sam within, as well as outside the country. Of the profiteer and the "unseen hand" he says in the Detroit Free Press:

"But while we face the conflict overseas unflinchingly, and with unshaken confidence, we must not forget that right here at home exists a grave peril, both in the indifference in many quarters and the covert aid and comfort that are given the common foe by those more concerned about how much they are going to make out of this war than they are in bringing it to an early conclusion and saving the needless slaughter of millions of the best of America's young men.

"It is very well to speak jokingly of the unseen hand, but I know and so does every other man who comes in contact with these selfish interests, that it is a stern reality, and that much of the insidious propaganda that as a matter of convenience is charged up to external influences has its inception right in this country, with men to whom the prolongation of the war means increased opportunity to fatten their purses.

"It is the safest sort of a game to play, because the ways through which they can attain their ends are so devious that the chance of their being detected is relatively slight.

"Delayed shipments of raw materials or the finished product, slowing down in production, congestion due ostensibly to bad management, but in reality often the outgrowth of carefully laid plans—these and a thousand other things can hamper our operations abroad, and injure us and those in Europe dependent in a large measure upon us, more than the mouthings of an army of soap-box orators.

"Let me cite a single instance by way of illustration: England is confronted by the most serious food-situation in its history because practically every able-bodied man is under arms, and there is nobody at home to till the soil but women and children and men whose usefulness as fighters has been outlived. There must be a greater cultivation of the land than ever this summer.

"We had this in mind when we contracted with the English Government to build for them a large number of tractors. Each tractor in England can produce fifty times its weight and bulk in a single season.
For this reason it should have preference in shipping even over food.
We sent those tractors to the seaboard in solid trains so that there might be no delay in their reaching England in time for the season.
Several thousands were permitted to pile up there, until the docks were congested, while less than 10 per cent, had been loaded aboard ship.
"Now, thousands of tractors lying on the dock on this side of the Atlantic do not help the food problem anywhere. Besides, Canada and this country were begging for these machines, and our only reason for sending them abroad first was because we believed the need there was more urgent. We cabled Lord Northcliffe to this effect, and suggested that if his officials could not load them on board ship they be released for use at home. Back came the assurance from Lord Northcliffe that he would act vigorously, and the way those tractors were placed on shipboard indicated that he was as good as his word. That particular "congestion" faded with gratifying rapidity.

"Such conditions are far more prevalent than the public is aware. It is not because the interests responsible for this state of affairs love war itself, but they see an opportunity to profit at the public expense, or are inclined to balk at what they choose to regard as unwarranted interference with their affairs.
This is the very spirit that dominated the German junker whose rule we have set out to overthrow. It is the world-old principle of parasitic power given present-day application, and it is one of the most dangerous foes we have to fight right now, because it is not thousands of miles overseas but right in our midst.

"If there ever was a time in the nation's history when selfish interests should be shoved so far into the background that they would be entirely forgotten it is this very day, this very hour.

"I am for peace and against war just as strongly today as I ever was.
I stand exactly where I have stood right along. But if we can't have peace without fighting for it, by all means let us fight. And let us fight in such a manner that the whole world will understand that we mean business—that we are in it to stay, with all our hearts and souls, until the finish."

Germany's Gain From German Defeat

By GEORGE WAGNER, Assistant Professor of Zoology, University of Wisconsin

Published under direction of Wisconsin State Council of Defense.

To those who know Germany from personal experience, the question arises as to whether the German people, aside from the ruling caste, have anything to gain from a final victory in this war. If there is truth in the philosophy of Democracy, the answer must be NO. The German masses can gain nothing by a victory of German autocracy, they have much to gain from its defeat.

Germany is only an expanded Prussia, and its curse is militarism. A German victory would only help this military autocracy to strengthen its own position. Seldom has a triumphant despot extended the civic rights of his people. Victory makes an autocratic government arrogant and overbearing. It is in defeat that it yields to the demands of those who bear the burden.

It was thus with Prussia in 1806 and 1807; Austria made many reforms after her crushing defeat in 1866; France became a real Republic after the disaster of 1870; Russia awoke after her humiliation by Japan in 1904. And so it will inevitably be with Germany.

First, Prussianism: the system which declares that citizens exist only for the purposes of the State; which under apparently democratic forms makes the Kaiser nearly an absolute ruler and makes his Army and his higher officials responsible only to him.
The autocratic rule of Prussia is only possible on account of the steady forward march of the military machine.
A defeat of Prussia in 1866 would have swept away the whole Prussian tyranny. Only a defeat will do so now.

With the Prussian system must stand —and fall—the militaristic system, for the two are one. The essence of it is a military class, with powers distinct from and at many points superior to those of the civic authorities, by which it is in no way controlled.
It is hard to see how the political power and personal rights of the ordinary citizen can flourish in any nation burdened with such a system.
And it is harder to see how any active movement for greater political and personal rights can progress in the face of such a system triumphant.
Only defeat can undermine its power.

Another part of this Prussian system is the caste of civic officials. Its great curse is that its training tends to make each man in it a tyrant on a small scale. And the more important members of this caste have been born into it, or have been drawn in so early, that they know no other life, and think no other thoughts, than those of this officialdom. There is no real contact with the crowd, who are looked upon as only pawns in the great game played by the State. Arrogance and overbearing as this caste is in its humblest members, a German victory would only make it more so. Defeated, it is not too much to hope that some even of this caste will realize that they are also made of common clay.

The Hohenzollern, the Army, the civic officials, the landed nobility, these rule Germany, with little reference to the wishes of the people. By connections of society, marriage, and business, they form one group, considering itself chosen by God to rule Germany—and the world.

Is it a wonder the so-called German Parliament is a farce? Practically all legislation comes to it from the ruling caste, represented by the Bundesrat.
And it comes usually with clear statement as to what changes in it will be tolerated. Opposition to Government proposals, any new proposals inconvenient to the Government are usually met by sneering retort from the Chancellor or one of his Ministers, that makes one wonder how any man of real character can consent to give his time as a member under such conditions.

A victorious Prussianism will certainly not fail to make the Reichstag even more helpless than it is. Based on the claim that the Prussian system was the cause of its triumph, it would greatly increase its efforts to make the election of democratically minded members an impossibility. It would more frequently and more resolutely dictate what the Reichstag could do or could not do.

It will be only after a defeat that the people themselves will develop the courage to call for a new deal. The democratic forces are abundant enough and able enough now, but those who have come in contact with them know how hopeless they feel about achieving any material reforms in a country that bristles with bayonets.

And finally the tax burden. Military autocracy and a crushing tax go together; for no state activity costs so much and produces so little as do the activities of great standing armies. And triumphant Prussia will surely wish to increase the army, will claim it necessary to defend the new territory it has seized. And under the circumstances poor Michel will,
as ever, have no choice but to pay.

If by our efforts we can show that the Prussian system can be conquered then may we expect the people of Germany to arise in their might and wipe it out. And then will the way be clear for that Alliance for Peace, in the path of which Prussia has for long been the stumbling block.

But with a victorious military autocracy, no such step toward Democracy can be expected. This can be brought about only by a defeat of the pernicious system that has so long dominated Germany, and now has disclosed its ambition to dominate the world.

WHITTIER TAKES ANOTHER STRIDE

P. L. Whittier, "the Barefoot Boy," has taken another stride in the advancement of his mercantile business at 16 W. Davenport street.
The Bargain Basement is the latest innovation at the Whittier Store. The entire basement of the store has been converted into an attractive salesroom where odds and ends of high grade merchandise are offered for sale at cut prices.
Although the Basement was opened only a week ago it is already proving popular with economical shoppers and the sales records are far exceeding Mr. Whit-tier's expectations. The Basement is a busy little store in itself and offers many money saving opportunities.

Since moving into his present location two months ago Mr. Whit-tier's patronage has shown a big increase. He continues to add to his stocks and his line of ready-to-wear, dry goods and shoes is very complete. "The Barefoot Boy" is pleased with the manner in which things are coming his way and declares Rhinelander is one of the best little business towns on the map.

Most Important Part of Tree.

Many regard the roots of a tree as its most important part but this is not the case. The top or crown is of major importance for there the processes of reproduction take place and there the direction of its food takes place.
The crown contains the lungs and stomach of the tree.

The Hour Stealer.

Procrastination, as the thief of time, wouldn't be nearly so bad if he didn't steal any time but that of the procrastinator. But dawdling by one means delay for somebody else, and often, for many.—Lullaby Times.

Be Cheerful.

WIFE BURIED; HUSBAND ILL

Funeral services over the remains of the late Mrs. James Welch, who passed away last week at Munising, Mich., were held this morning from the St. Francis Xavier church, Rev. Fr. Held conducting the services. Interment took place at the local Catholic cemetery.

The remains were accompanied to this city by Mr. Welch, who is seriously ill with pneumonia and pleurisy, and is under the attendance of a physician and trained nurse at the William Ceagelski home.

The funeral over the remains of Mrs. Welch's sister, Mrs. Ed. Counter, who passed away the day following the sad demise of the former's wife will be held at Munising, Mich. The little children of Mrs. Counter are ill with pneumonia and are in need of constant attention. The parents of the dead woman, Mr. and Mrs. E. Welch, formerly of this city, are in attendance at the Counter home and will, with the griefed husband, take charge of the remains at Munising.—Merrill Daily Herald.

Mrs. Ed Counter is a sister-in-law of Eli Counter, of the Gary & Danielson store.

LONG SUFFERING ENDS IN DEATH

After an illness which dates back over one year death came to Mrs. James Robertson at the family home, 521 N. Stevens street, at an early hour Monday morning. Cancer of the stomach was the nature of her ailment. The best of medical skill could give her no aid and several months ago all hope for her recovery was abandoned. Although at times her suffering was intense Mrs. Robertson's fortitude was remarkable and she calmly resigned herself to the inevitable.

Deceased was forty-three years of age and was born in Minnesota. She leaves her husband and three children, Edna and Rueben Robertson and Mrs. Walter Smith.

The Robertson family moved to Rhinelander a number of years ago from Tomahawk where Mr. Robertson was manager of the Mitchell Hotel under the Bradley ownership. Mrs. Robertson had a host of friends in the city who are very sorry to learn of her death and deeply sympathize with the family in their loss of a good wife and mother.

The funeral was conducted from the residence Wednesday afternoon. Rev. J. A. Snamtmo of the Norwegian Lutheran church officiated at the services.

METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday School at 10 o'clock. Adult classes at the same time. Morning services at 11 o'clock. Topic: "Strength, and how to receive it." Epworth League at 7:15. Leader, W. Wilson. Evening service at 8 o'clock when the pastor will speak on the "Lost Sheep" from the paradise of Christ. Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

You are cordially invited to attend these services. You know that nowhere else can you find that peace that passeth all understanding, that nowhere else are you sure of meeting with God fearing folks, that church membership is a mark of honor and evidence, that a man or woman is a worth while member of the community. Don't wait until Christmas to go to church, start now. Go every Sunday. No matter how young you are, no matter how old, you are getting nearer the day when you will have to face God. You had better get ready now. Attend this church next Sunday.

FULTON GREAT TRUCK

Fay L. Cusik, state distributor for Fulton trucks, relates the interesting feat performed by the Fulton truck, which he sold to A. Taylor, Rhinelander, Wis., last November.

"The truck was not shipped," says Mr. Cusik, "but covered the entire length of the state of Wisconsin under its own power, thru eight inches of snow and with the temperature 5 degrees below zero."

This initial tryout in no way impaired the machine, according to Mr. Taylor, who writes: "My truck has been on the go ever since its arrival, in spite of the heavy snow this winter and the temperature has been down to 38 degrees below zero."—Milwaukee Free Press.

BIG SUBSCRIPTION ON ASHLAND DIV.

Chicago & Northwestern Railway employees of the Ashland division up to Monday night had subscribed $140,950 to the third Liberty Loan. Of this amount $118,050 was subscribed under the Northwestern plan and the remainder, $22,900 was subscriptions placed with the local committee. The amount to be credited to Langlade county out of $118,050 subscribed under the Northwestern plan is $11,100. These are 2,819 employees on the Ashland division and the number of subscriptions is 1,892, 66.6 per cent. A recent comparison showed that the average subscription of Ashland division employees was $80.28 compared with $68.82 for the system as a whole. Shopmen and car repairers, a large number of whom are of foreign birth, have made an especially fine showing. Out of about 600 employees 592 have purchased bonds.—Antigo Journal.

MRS. M. BLEVINS

Mrs. M. Blevins passed away at her home on N. Pinos street Saturday evening. She had been in declining health for months. TOMAHAWK LAKE ALSO TO FRONT Tomahawk Lake with a quota of $300 in the Third Liberty Loan campaign shows a subscription of $2900. This is due to the energetic work of Chairman Roman Woodzicka and his assistants. Mr. Woodzicka sold bonds day and night and allowed no one to escape. Tomahawk Lake was given one of the smallest quotas in the county and the result is indeed a credit to the town.

He Needs Somebody to Send Him another pouch of Real GRAVELY Chewing Plug

Uncle Sam's Boys don't ask for much in the way of comforts—but good tobacco they must have. A few cents spent for Real Gravelly will buy more tobacco satisfaction than many times the money in ordinary plug.

Give any man a chew of Real Gravelly Plug, and he will tell you that's the kind to send. Send the best! Ordinary plug is false economy. It costs less per week to chew Real Gravelly, because a small chew of it lasts a long while.

If you smoke a pipe, slice Gravelly with your knife and add a little to your smoking tobacco. It will give flavor—improve your smoke.

SEND YOUR FRIEND IN THE U. S. SERVICE A POUCH OF GRAVELLY
Dealers all around here carry it in 10c pouches. A 3c stamp will put it into his hands in any Training Camp or Seaport of the U. S. A. Even "over there" a 3c stamp will take it to him. Your dealer will supply envelope and give you official directions how to address it.

ALLIES DEMAND MORE CEREALS

American Meat Restrictions Relaxed to Effect Greater Wheat Savings.

ARGENTINE ARRIVALS SHORT.

Meat Supply Here Considerably Enlarged — Food Administration, However, Warns Against Waste.

The allies have made further and increased demands for breadstuffs, these enlarged demands being caused to some degree by shortage in arrivals from the Argentine. It is, therefore, necessary for the U. S. Food Administration to urge a still further reduction in the consumption of bread and breadstuffs generally if we are to meet our export necessities. The Food Administration has issued a statement explaining the situation in detail, particularly the reasons which lead it, for the purpose of centering effort for the time being upon the cereal situation to relax temporarily the restrictions on meat consumption.

Experience shows, this statement says, that the consumption of breadstuffs is intimately associated with the consumption of meat. For various reasons our supplies of meat for the next two or three months are considerably enlarged, and we can supply the allies with all of the meat products which transportation facilities render possible and at the same time somewhat increase our own consumption. In these circumstances the Food Administration considers it wise to relax the voluntary restrictions on meat consumption to some extent with a view to further decreasing bread consumption.

Conservation of food must be adjusted to meet necessities from time to time, for neither production, nor allied demands are constant factors, nor can any of these factors be anticipated for long periods in advance in the disturbed conditions in which we at present live. While the world situation is not one that warrants any relaxation in the efforts to eliminate waste or to relax economy in food, the Administration desires to secure better adjustment in food balances.

So long as the present conditions continue the only special restrictions we ask are the beefless and porkless Tuesday.

The meatless meal and the porkless Saturday are no longer asked.

The farmers of the United States are responding to the national call to increase hog production. Their increase, to all appearances, is being attained more rapidly. Of more immediate importance, however, are several complex factors which have affected an immediate increase in meat supplies.

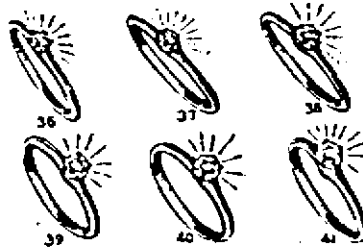

The transportation shortage before the government took over the railroads, the bad weather in January and early in February, the large percentage of immature corn in the last harvest and the necessity of feeding this corn as rapidly as possible to save it from decay, have not only resulted in backing up the animals—particularly hogs—on the farms for a longer period of feeding, but have resulted in a great increase in their average weight and will result, with improved transportation conditions, which already appear, in larger than normal arrivals at market for the next two or three months. The weight of hogs coming to the market for the past two weeks indicates an increase in weight of from an average of 203 pounds last year to the almost unprecedented average of 232 pounds, or a net increase in their meat value of over 15 per cent. This is a distinct addition to the nation's meat supply. It therefore now seems certain that we have such enlarged supplies for at least some months to come, that we can not only increase our exports to the allies to the full extent of their transportation facilities, but at the same time can properly increase our domestic consumption.

The response of the public to our requests for reduced consumption of meat during the past few months has been most gratifying, and this service alone has enabled the government during this period to provide such supplies as transportation to the allies permitted.

The Administration also suggests that in those parts of the country where the old fashioned home preservation of pork is still the custom, this practice should be extended at the present time, as it will relieve the burden upon transportation to and from the packing houses and is economically sound as saving the cost of packing operations and at the same time will provide home supplies of pork to last over the months of decreased supplies.

The Food Administration desires to repeat that it does not want to give the impression that these are times when simplicity and moderation of living are not critically necessary, but at its sole desire is to secure an adjustment between our different food needs and meet changing conditions from time to time and to keep the public fully and frankly advised of its position with the full confidence and assurance that whenever it becomes necessary renewed appeals for saving will be the same loyal response as in the past.

A TRUE AMERICAN

The following poem urging the purchase of Liberty Bonds was written by H. Peigh of Three Lakes:
Give, man, give!
That your children may live
A life of freedom such as you have known.
Give, though the tear drops start;
Give from an aching heart;
Give, give, until you part
With the last red cent you own.
Give, that you may say to God above
I have done my best for the land I love.

Then will your gifts come back to you—purified;
Cleansed by the fallen tears,
Blessed by the crucified Daughters of men.
And then—The memory in after years will make of you
A True American.
Can mortal man want more?

TAPS SOUND FOR COMPANY L BOY

Corporal Sam J. Charpie of Company L is dead. The news came in a letter received Sunday by Chief of Police Maurice Straub from the St. Paul police, asking that the young man's clothes and other effects be sent to relatives in St. Paul.

No further information bearing on Charpie's death has been received here. He joined Co. L in this city early last summer. He is believed to have gone to France with the company as he wrote friends here, just before the company sailed, that he was about to cross the water and was glad to be with the Rhinelander boys. The supposition is that he died from natural causes.

Charpie's home was in St. Paul. He was a musician and at the time of his enlistment was a member of the Rhinelander-City Band. He resided here about four months.

At the adjourned town meeting held at the town hall last Friday, the following appropriations were made, after which the meeting was adjourned for eight days:

Highway fund $2500
General fund 4000
Electric light fund 1000
Interest fund 500
For opening of roads 500
Total $8500

A fire which started while grass was being burned at Kawagwassag Resort did considerable damage to one of the cottages of the resort and threatened other property for a time.

The call for assistance was answered by people of Minocqua and the fire was extinguished soon after their arrival.

A cablegram was received by Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Jenkinson last Thursday stating that their son, Dr. Edward L. Jenkinson, had arrived safely in France. Ed. is with the Medical Corps of the U. S. War Service.

It was reported here Saturday evening that the Walsh summer resort was threatened by a forest fire.

Several parties were rushed to the scene from Minocqua but on their arrival it was found that the fire had already been brought under control. None of the cottages belonging to the resort were burned.

John Zentner of Minocqua died in a hospital at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, Monday, April 15, at 8:00 o'clock p. m., after a brief illness, pneumonia being the cause of death.

The remains of the deceased will arrive in Merrill Thursday for interment.

Nine children, Barbara, John, Nellie, Fred, Hattie, Della, Ralph, Edward, and Mary were born to Mr. and Mrs. Zentner, all of whom survive except John who died at the age of thirty-two years from heart failure. A Little Care May Save Many Rhinelander Readers Future Trouble

Watch the kidney secretions. See that they have the amber hue of health;

The discharge not excessive or infrequent;

Contain no "brick-dust like" sediment.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for weak kidneys.

Let a Rhinelander citizen tell you how they work.

Fred Douglas Booth, 815 Brunner St., Rhinelander, says: "I, for one, know what a wonderful remedy Doan's Kidney Pills are. I strained my back doing heavy lifting. It began to ache and became lame. It has pained so at times that I could hardly walk. My kidneys acted irregularly, too. I always went to Reardon's Drug Store and bought a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. They relieved me right away and put my kidneys in a good condition. Put me down as one of Doan's boosters."

MADISON SOLDIER DEAD; KNOWN HERE

Just one week after they had received word that their sons had arrived safely in France the parents of two Madison boys received word that they had died from pneumonia.
The boys are Frederick Courtney, son of Mrs. James F. Courtney, 427 North Park street, and Karl Wagner, son of Prof. and Mrs. George Wagner, 1901 Jefferson St. Courtney was but 17 years of age, while Wagner was 19. Word of Courtney's death on April 17 was received Monday and on Tuesday the news of Wagner's death on April 19 was received. Just one week ago the parents received "overseas" postcards from the boys, saying they had landed after a safe passage.

Courtney was a high school junior and enlisted as a driver in the supply service in February. His death will cause the addition of another gold star, the second, to the high school service flag.

Wagner was graduated from the high school last year and was a freshman at the university. He entered the supply service as a truck driver in the 26th engineers corps

TWO GUESTS GONE

Sheriff Hans Rodd's Swamp View Hotel is minus two of its honored guests. Charles Hatch and John Dillon, evaporated from their congenial surroundings Tuesday morning and according to latest advices are still among the missing.
The gentlemen, at the request of Judge C. F. Smith, had registered at the hotel for the season. They left Swamp View immediately after breakfast Tuesday morning, presumably for the purpose of killing time in one of the city's manufacturing institutions. This was the last seen of them.

Sheriff Rodd considers the impromptu departure of the gentlemen rather a black mark for his hostelry.
He says they had two of the best rooms in the house, were shown every courtesy befitting guests of their prominence and were apparently enjoying the scenery. He even kept the doors of their rooms locked at night so no one could break in and rob them. Rumor has it, however, that the gentlemen left because the Swamp View hasn't any golf links
